

ROCK OPERA

Unique sympho rock spectacle

- By combining music genres such as rock, jazz and opera, and with the interpretation of Novi Sad Big Band and the Choir and Orchestra of the Serbian National Theatre opera, we bring to you an exclusive concert. The conductor and author of music arrangements is Fedor Vrtacnik, art director of the Novi Sad Big Bend, and the vocal soloists are Danka Adamov, Dragana Keller, Zoran Sandorov, Nikola Mijic, Mattia Zanatta... This is a unique opportunity for the audience to sing the greatest hits of their favorite, legendary rock stars, alongside our performers, whether the audience is made of older generations who still value their vinyl records, or of younger generations who learn about music via internet. It's a human urge to express emotion through the music. Our desire is to work with all interested artists around the world in order to celebrate the existence of music as a phenomenon that makes us better, more positive and happier people. If you are interested in joining us and cooperating in our projects, please contact us.
- About 100 performers on the stage provide a unique experience and enjoy the new dimension of music.

- The concert lasts about 120 minutes, and the program features 20 anthological music hits of rock groups, whose names are part of the 20th century encyclopaedia of the world and domestic music scene. Some of them are Led Zeppelin, Deep Purple, Queen, The Beatles, Pink Floyd.
- The rock opera was performed seven times in Serbian National Theatre in Novi Sad and twice in Sava Center Hall in Belgrade. The Serbian National Theater and the Sava Center were filled to the last place.
